

Why Envision Learning Partners?

Envision Learning Partners seeks to transform the educational experience for students across the country. Building on the successful model pioneered by our education division, Envision Schools, we partner with teachers and leaders to create vibrant schools that engage students deeply in their own learning.

“As consultants, you have far exceeded our expectations and achieved a level of engagement among our school staff that has infused us with a new sense of hope for our students.”

Our vision is based on the impressive results achieved over the last decade at the urban high schools founded and operated by Envision Schools. Students at these schools, most of whom are the first in their family to go to college, are transformed by their experience at Envision.

“I loved the opportunity to work with professionals who are sculpting what is to come in education.”

A Snapshot of Students Before and After Envision

Before:

- 60% of Envision students are low income.
- Most arrive at high school performing well below grade level. They are disaffected, uninterested in school, and frustrated by teaching that feels irrelevant to their lives and future prospects.

After:

- They leave as engaged, active, hands-on learners. They are enthusiastic about the world around them and are capable of navigating college and career successfully.
- Graduates master academic subjects and show proficiency on both state tests and college entrance exams.
- More than 90% of Envision's graduates go on to college (compared with roughly 50% of students across California). Many go to competitive four-year schools.
- More importantly, nearly all persist beyond the challenging first year of college and continue to work toward earning their degrees.

What Do We Offer?

We've developed and implemented a unique system of student assessment that ensures students are truly prepared for college and career success – and in so doing, acts as a leverage point for transforming what and how students learn. Envision Learning Partners brings a new assessment approach with the College and Career Readiness Student Assessment System to schools and districts all over the United States.

As a strategic lever our assessment system transforms teachers' instructional practices and the school's learning culture. We take a systems approach because only with everyone moving together can we produce transformative results.
